

SAMPLE EVIDENCE PACK

One polling unit, everything a tribunal will ask for.

This is what a campaign's lawyer receives for each polling unit after election day: the signed result sheet as photographed at the unit, when and where it was taken, proof it has not changed, how it compares with the IReV upload, and every hand it passed through.

About this sample

Every name, number and fingerprint here is made up. Party names are placeholders and the unit does not exist. Real packs carry the campaign's own data and are shared only with the campaign and its lawyers.

Built to be admissible; the tribunal decides. Evidtrail records what a campaign's lawful agents see. It does not message, target or pay voters.

4 · HOW COUNSEL CAN CHECK IT

1. Recompute the SHA-256 fingerprint of the original file. It must match the fingerprint recorded at capture.
2. Check the fingerprint on Evidtrail's public verify page, which shows when the file was sealed and received.
3. Compare the signed sheet with the IReV upload for the same unit on INEC's portal.
4. Call the agent as a witness. Their appointment, consent and statement are in the pack.
